Read more of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and the civil rights movement. Programs include educational lectures, spiritual events, and workshops focused on inclusive strategies and practices for enhancing diversity in international education. More than 30 faculty and staff members, representing 26 departments across Emory units, collaborate to enrich student belonging and diversity in international education. Lisa brings a breadth and depth of knowledge and expertise in this area, and we look forward to her contributions to the work of the current library and museum DEI director, Fenn.

Among other responsibilities, Fenn will guide the work of the current library and museum DEI centered focus on similarities, not differences. The Emory units collaboration to enrich student belonging and diversity in international education. The Emory Libraries and the Michael C. Carlos Museum.

Emory is an opportunity for people from all backgrounds to come together and reflect on the shared values and experiences that shape our communities. The National Day of Racial Healing is a time to contemplate our shared values and experiences that shape our communities.

The Journey to Healing for One Emory is an opportunity for Emory students, faculty, and staff to engage in safe, brave, and responsible spaces to discuss, reflect, and imagine a process of healing. The entire Emory community is invited to participate in this initiative, which will take place during the spring 2024 semester.

Questions can be directed to Brent Buckley (buckleybr@emory.edu) for more information or questions. Registration for this event is only open to Emory students, faculty, and staff.
