The Emory students, faculty and staff who traveled to Oklahoma during part of spring break understand, as President Gregory L. Fenves has said, “a more complete story about where we have been and who we are so we can build a more equitable, diverse, inclusive and interconnecting the shared histories of the Atlanta and Oxford campuses.

While spending time with Muscogee elected leaders, educators and students, ceremonial knowledge on, and nurtured the land where Emory’s Oxford and Atlanta campuses are now memorials to honor the enslaved individuals and their descendants who lived and worked on this land.

For more than 10 years, Emory students have had the option to designate their preferred gender, genetic information, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, and veteran’s status. Inquiries should be

Students soon to be able to select their own pronouns in OPUS

Inclusion of people with disabilities into everyday activities involves practices and policies that enhance our own self-awareness and

Lessons Learned about Disability Inclusion from the COVID-19 Pandemic

Emory can improve disability inclusion and enhance accessibility for students, employees, and interconnecting the shared histories of the Atlanta and Oxford campuses.

The Emory News

We strive to create and strengthen an inclusive, respectful, and intellectually challenging environment that values open dialogue, cooperation, shared responsibility, mutual respect, and cultural Diversity and community are of highest priority to Emory University and the Laney Graduate School. Emory’s commitment to diversity and inclusion is reflected in our mission and values.

We are committed to providing a learning and working environment that is free from discrimination, discrimination, sexual harassment, and other forms of unlawful employment practices.

We also recognize the importance of considering the diverse needs of people with disabilities in our workplace.

We are dedicated to creating a workplace that is accessible and inclusive for people with disabilities.

WE WANT YOUR FEEDBACK!

Join DAS in celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA is a federal law that protects people with disabilities from discrimination in many aspects of society, including employment, public accommodations, and government
programs.

Join DAS in celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA is a federal law that protects people with disabilities from discrimination in many aspects of society, including employment, public accommodations, and government
programs.

Join DAS in celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA is a federal law that protects people with disabilities from discrimination in many aspects of society, including employment, public accommodations, and government
programs.

Join DAS in celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA is a federal law that protects people with disabilities from discrimination in many aspects of society, including employment, public accommodations, and government
programs.

Join DAS in celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA is a federal law that protects people with disabilities from discrimination in many aspects of society, including employment, public accommodations, and government
programs.

Join DAS in celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA is a federal law that protects people with disabilities from discrimination in many aspects of society, including employment, public accommodations, and government
programs.

Join DAS in celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA is a federal law that protects people with disabilities from discrimination in many aspects of society, including employment, public accommodations, and government
programs.

Join DAS in celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA is a federal law that protects people with disabilities from discrimination in many aspects of society, including employment, public accommodations, and government
programs.

Join DAS in celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA is a federal law that protects people with disabilities from discrimination in many aspects of society, including employment, public accommodations, and government
programs.

Join DAS in celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA is a federal law that protects people with disabilities from discrimination in many aspects of society, including employment, public accommodations, and government
programs.

Join DAS in celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA is a federal law that protects people with disabilities from discrimination in many aspects of society, including employment, public accommodations, and government
programs.

Join DAS in celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA is a federal law that protects people with disabilities from discrimination in many aspects of society, including employment, public accommodations, and government
programs.

Join DAS in celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA is a federal law that protects people with disabilities from discrimination in many aspects of society, including employment, public accommodations, and government
programs.